Greetings,

Approximately two years ago Glanbia Foods, Inc. initiated the construction of a Transportation Department Facility. The facility consisted all the required components to manage and maintain Gambia's trucking fleet; Offices, Training Rooms, Locker rooms, Maintenance, Parts, Parking lots, Fueling Facilities, everything that is required to operate a fleet of tucks twenty four hours a day, year round.

Glanbia's plan was to pursue this project as a Design Build. Glanbia knew the end requirements of the facility, but the actual details of size, and design still needed to be established. A good example, we knew we needed a locker rooms for 75 men and 15 women, but how many square feet of floor space, would still needed to be determined. This project consisted of all aspect of construction; Civil Construction, Fire Suppression, Storm Water Permitting, Building requirement, Rock removal, HVAC and Special Environmental Issues. Our plan was to use a nationally recognized an out of area construction firm because so many of the details would be under the contractors control.

Peterson Brothers Construction approached Glanbia inquiring about projects; this one was one the horizon. In all honesty when Peterson Brothers started pursuing this project I personally did not believe they had any chance of winning the work. This project was so much more than a "Here is the plans go build it". This project was a full architectural and civil design and then a construction build project. As we worked through the submittal process, they proved me wrong. Peterson Brothers engaged a competent and complete team. At the end, we at Glanbia felt that Peterson Brothers would provide us with a quality product at a fair price, and we entered into a contract.

In the proceeding years Peterson Brother has completed numerous project for Glanbia Foods. Construction in food plants creates conflicting issues. To accomplish the work and still maintain the degree of cleanliness can create numerous issues needing to be overcome, Peterson Brothers has been able to accept the challenge. Peterson Brothers Construction has time and time again proven to be a reliable and competent vendor. Weather it is needing a small concrete pad or being the Design Build Team on a multi Million-dollar project, Peterson Brothers has provided Glanbia Foods with a quality and value and I would recommend them.

Sincerely,
